

As a citizen who grew up truly believing that the foundation of our precious representative democracy depended on a free exchange of diverse ideas, I am very concerned about undue influence and control of the media by a small group of super corporations who could create a uniformity of information delivered to the US population. Having a single entity, with a specific editorial perspective, able to control the television, radio and print access to information in any major market will severely undermine the freedom of thought and diminish the wisdom needed to make sound decisions.

I respectfully ask that you fulfill your responsibility to the welfare of our democracy by retaining the current ownership restrictions and preventing a monopolistic control of dissemination of information.

Thank you for your consideration.
